TIGER FARM SYSTEM

With one shift in franchises but the same staff of managers, the Tiger farm system looks forward to another successful season in 1973 to follow two pennant winners in 1972.

Anderson, of the Western Carolinas League, is replacing Rocky Mount, of the Carolina League, among the Tigers' three Class A affiliates in the one franchise movement.

Johnny Lipon, with Cot Deal as his pitching coach, returns to Toledo, where the Mud Hens narrowly missed the International League playoffs in the final game of the season.

Fred Hatfield is back at Montgomery for his second season there after piloting the Rebels to the Southern League championship in a race which promised to become a runaway but which closed with the Rebels 1½ games ahead in the Western Division. They then swept a three-game playoff from Asheville.

At Lakeland, Stub Overmire returns after directing the Florida State League Tigers in a remarkable comeback which enabled them to finish fifth after a slow start.

Jim Leyland faces his second season at Clinton, of the Midwest League, new to the farm system last year. He seeks further improvement for the Pilots, who were fifth and fourth.

Len Okrie moves to Anderson after a disappointing season at Rocky Mount, where the Leafs dropped to last place in the second half after running fourth in the first half.

Joe Lewis again directs Bristol, of the all-rookie Appalachian League, in which the 1972 Tigers nailed down a pennant in the next-to-last game of the season.

SPRING TRAINING

The Tigers have trained at Lakeland since 1934, first at Henley Field and since 1966 at Marchant Stadium, a mile north. The all-concrete grandstand at Marchant Stadium was built by the City of Lakeland at a cost of $500,000, and in 1972 the first night game was played there under a newly-installed, $160,000 set of lights.

Adjacent to the 12-acre tract on which the stadium is situated is Tigertown, the Tigers' minor-league training site since 1953. A plush, three-story, fireproof dormitory featuring air-conditioning, carpeted rooms and lounges on each floor, was added to the Tigertown complex in 1971. It houses 200 minor league players and officials. The $400,000 structure was financed by the Tigers and the City of Lakeland, with the city to be reimbursed for its contributions within 10 years.

The Marchant Stadium grandstand seats 4,075, including 450 box seats. The clubhouse, costing $48,000, accommodates up to 50 players in each club section with added quarters for umpires.

TIGER STADIUM

The capacity of Tiger Stadium is 54,220 seats. Official figures list 10,335 box seats; 21,172 reserved; 11,502 unreserved grandstand; and 11,211 bleacher seats.

Baseball has been played at the site since 1900, a year before the American League was born with the Tigers as a charter member. Known as Bennett Park at the time, it became Navin Field in 1912, Briggs Stadium in 1938 and Tiger Stadium Jan. 1, 1961.

The playing field and stands at Tiger Stadium are considered among the finest in baseball. Facilities for players, fans, press, television and radio personnel are excellent and improved whenever possible.

More than 10,000 square yards of sod are needed annually to repair the wear and tear of both baseball and football on the playing area. Sprinkling and drainage facilities are among the best and the latest-type field cover can be placed in less than a minute.

FETZER 10th TO HEAD TIGERS

John E. Fetzer, sole owner of the Tigers since Nov. 14, 1961, is the 10th in line to hold the position of top executive. The nationally-prominent television-radio executive, with holdings in Michigan and Nebraska, has taken an increasingly-active role in baseball administration since entering the game in 1956 as head of a syndicate purchasing the Tigers from the estate of the late W. O. Briggs.

Charter president of the Tigers when the American League won major status in 1901 was James D. Burns, also sheriff of Wayne County. In succeeding years, the post has been held by Samuel F. Angus (1902-1903), William H. Yawkey (1904-1906), Frank J. Navin (1907-1935), Walter O. Briggs (1936-1951), Walter O. Briggs, Jr. (1952-1956), Fred A. Knorr (1956), Harvey R. Hansen (1957-1959), William DeWitt (1960), and Fetzer since Oct. 11, 1960.

WHAT IS A SAVE?

A pitcher who enters game with his team leading and holds lead to completion of game is credited with a save, provided he is not winning pitcher. He must be finishing pitcher, unless removed for pinch hitter or pinch runner. If more than one pitcher qualifies, official scorer credits a save to "most effective" relief pitcher.

SOME REGULATIONS

A player is considered a rookie unless, during a previous season or seasons, he has (a) exceeded 130 times at bat or 50 innings pitched in the major leagues or (b) accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a major league club or clubs during the period of the 25-player limit, excluding time in military service.

A batting champion must have 502 or more actual or projected appearances at the plate. A pitching champion (ERA) must pitch 162 or more innings. A fielding champion must appear in 108 games at his position, except a catcher, who must appear in 81 games.

Player limit is 40 men from Sept. 1 to opening day of following season; then 25 until Sept. 1.

To determine the "magic number" in pennant race, compute the number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the last column of the standings from the closest opponent.

HOW THEY BECAME TIGERS

Research reveals that the nickname "Tigers" first was applied to the Detroit baseball club in 1895 — a year earlier than previously reported.

Baseball historians initially credited Philip J. Reid, city editor of the Detroit Evening News, with first using the name in print in 1896. However, George Stallings, manager of the Detroit team which was then a member of the Western League, took credit for the move which resulted in the nickname when he put his players in black-and-brown striped stockings which, he said, reminded the fans of "tiger stripes."

New evidence makes it appear that an unidentified headline writer at the Detroit Free Press actually originated the Tiger nickname in 1895, a year before Stallings became manager and before the team was wearing striped stockings.

In its early years, the team was simply called "Detroit," "the Detroits," sometimes the "Wolverines" (a name more familiarly associated with the University of Michigan) and at times the "Creams."

The "Creams" broke into print in 1894, the year Detroit entered the Western League under the ownership of G. A. Van Derbeck, a transient from Los Angeles. A writer of the time derisively referred to his aggregation as "what is purported to be the cream of California baseball players" — which may account for the name.

Then on April 16, 1895, the Free Press printed a headline over a baseball story which read: "Strouthers' Tigers Showed Up Very Nicely." On the same page, a string of baseball notes was headed: "Notes of the Detroit Tigers of 1895." Curiously, not once in either story was the word "Tigers" used.

From then on, the Free Press fairly regularly called them the "Tigers" and in May, 1895, the Sporting Life began using "Tigers" in its dispatches from Detroit. However, up to July 1, 1895, careful search of the files discloses that neither the Detroit Evening News nor its Sunday paper, the News-Tribune, had used "Tigers."

Thus it seems that the Detroit Free Press must get credit for originating the Tiger nickname in 1895 — unless someone has other new evidence to the contrary.

CLEARING THE ROOF

Between 1938, when Tiger Stadium was rebuilt on its present lines, and 1956, only one home run was hit over the roof — by Ted Williams in 1939, his rookie season. Since then, the feat has been accomplished 13 more times, including two over the left field roof.

Longest of the 12 homers over the right field stands is credited to Reggie Jackson in the 1971 All-Star game (July 13). It is estimated the ball would have traveled more than 600 feet had it not hit the transformer housing on the light tower above the roof over the 370-foot mark.

The 1969 homer credited to Jim Northrup also bounced back to the field but cleared the peak of the roof before striking an obstruction beyond the peak.

TIGER BROADCAST TEAMS

As they have been since 1965, the Tigers' 1973 games will be aired by two separate broadcasting teams — selected games on television by George Kell and Larry Osterman; all games on radio with Ernie Harwell the anchor man.

Fourteen seasons as an American League infield star and 13 years behind a baseball microphone are Kell's credentials. He was American League batting champion in 1949 when he hit .343 for the Tigers and completed his career with a lifetime average of .306. He broke into TV broadcasting with a pre-game network show in 1958, moved into the Tiger TV booth in 1959 and has been there ever since except 1964.

Osterman, a letterman in baseball, basketball and track in high school, has been sports director of Station WKZO-TV, Kalamazoo, for 13 years following similar experience in Nebraska.

Harwell's broadcast background goes back to 1940 and he has been on the major league scene since 1948; describing the action for the Brooklyn Dodgers, New York Giants and Baltimore Orioles before coming to the Tigers in 1960.
